

THE TEXT

Dear Mrs. Smith,

I just wanted to introduce myself and John, my son .You know this is the first time I will have a child in your classroom.

John is my second son. He loves drawing, playing games and especially taking part in extracurricular activities. Generally, being quiet in the classroom, he is not that lazy student; I mean he always does his work. If you want him to help you with something, he just needs a few words. I would also like to tell you that he is sensitive and a bit shy. He hates others shouting at him .He often reddens , but you can never feel he is embarrassed or angry . In fact , being his mom, I know he is . So, to have him do his work or tidy up his room, I always speak softly to him.

I'm looking forward to helping out in whatever way I can throughout the year. But I still have a three- year- old girl at home. I am afraid I cannot go to the school very often.

Please don't hesitate to call me if you have anything to discuss about John. I also pick up my children everyday after school, and we can have a quick chat if needed.

Yours,

Mrs Morgan.

GOOD LUCK
