LISTENING SCRIPT

Jack Morgan is twelve years old. He lives in England with his mum, his dad and his sister Emma. Emma has a part-time job in a bed and breakfast. She earns £30 a week. She usually gets two ten-pound notes and two five-pound notes and she always puts it in her purse. She uses the money to buy clothes and phone credit. She spends about £10 a week on her cell phone.

Jack doesn't have a part-time job but he helps at home. Jack sometimes does the dishes and small jobs around the house. He never helps with meals but he likes making the fire, it's his favourite job. His parents give him £6 allowance money every week. Jack works a lot to get his allowance. Jack gets extra money when he cleans and repairs his friends' bicycles. It's much more interesting than doing the dishes and he gets more money. He usually gets ten pounds when he repairs a bike. Jack doesn't have a cell phone, he saves most of his money to buy bike equipment. He keeps his money safe but he also spends some of his money on video games and his favourite bike magazines.
